In an attempt to get over the winter doldrums 40 NVCC members went to All Sports in Sterling on March 10th to race in 150 lap Karting endurance race.

There was more than a little sweat pouring off these guys as each team of two drivers went 15 laps between pit stops. As Mike Woods said to me, "this is a lot harder than I thought it would be!" With the course set up on a slick track of about 7 turns in about a 10th of a mile the drivers worked really hard to keep up.

The drivers were kept abreast of how each team was doing with complete video of electronic scoring—position, fastest lap, laps to go, etc.

Pit stops were a real jumble as the pit entrance was only one kart wide! This meant if you came in behind another kart you were at the mercy of their pit speed!

Bob Compton's comments:
Last years winners, Bob and Doug Compton were relegated to a 3rd place finish this year due to an extended pit stop. An engine on one of the cars died in front of Bob as he was entering pit lane for the first pit stop. This cost the team an extra 18 seconds. The total lap time was 56 seconds while the remaining pit stops took about 38 seconds for the lap. Bob entered the pit lane on the first stop in 4th place but dropped down to 6th as Doug took off. Doug took the team back into 3rd by the time the next pit stop came around and 3rd is where they finished, a lap down to the winners.

Exciting stuff as we all know the NVCC racers can be very competitive!!!

Andrej Balanc and Chuck Wasserstadt at the top of the podium (both SCCA race driver license holders!)

Presidential Pontifications from Jeff Kirk

Hello fellow vetters! The weather is finally beginning to show signs of warming up, and nature is finally beginning to wake up and start moving again. Hooray! Likewise, your club is starting things off in high gear this year too. The annual Hopsfrog brunch will of just happened, the ice cream cruise is planned and ready to go, the Concourse is just a few weeks away, go-cart racing, shop days, and much much more.

On top of this, your club is also making a lot of serious changes that I hope everyone will get involved with. In fact, we need almost full participation for these. Over the last few years, the NVCC has been donating money to local charities. This year, we're going to do a lot more. Collin MacDonald has worked out an arrangement with the Loudon County Park Services, that a portion of the proceeds from this year's Concourse will be donated to the Little League World Series. This will be bringing the club additional press and allows us to make a contribution back to the people that are supporting us.

Additionally, the NVCC will begin working this year with the Special Olympics. Mark Griggs, one of our members, has been working with this group for several years, and has volunteered to liaison between the NVCC and the Special Olympics, as well as several local law enforcement agencies. At the last council meeting, Mark spoke of a recent meeting he had in which many of the high level organizers were excited that our club was wanting to work and volunteer our services. I would ask that anyone interested or willing to assist us in this, please come to the next GBM. A speaker for the Special Olympics will be there to provide some insight on how the club can assist in helping these children. I don't think there's a greater feeling in the world than helping put a smile on a child's face, and I certainly look forward to doing whatever I can to bring this about.

Lastly and just as important, I would like to thank Koon's Chevrolet, and Alex Perdikas in particular, for offering assistance to the club. Koon's has donated $1000 to the Concourse this year, and has offered to assist the club in purchasing a trailer to tow the autocross gear. Additionally, Koons will be offering forms and membership applications to those members who have bought a new or used Corvette from Koons Chevrolet, as well as offering discounts to all current NVCC members on parts, work, and cars. Also, once we get the forum setup and prepared, look for a new section called "Ask Joe".

The Z06 Electron Blue Zone from Jim Beaupre

Joe Malo, the Corvette mechanic for Koons, has offered to answer questions about your car on the forum. Anyone familiar with Joe knows that he's very knowledgeable about Corvettes, and is always willing to give advice to those who ask.

All in all, I think we have some great opportunities here to work and get this club on the map, to increase the general awareness of the NVCC, and most importantly, do some good things for our local communities. It's my sincere hope that you each take the time and get involved and make this a winning effort. Look forward to seeing you at the next function!!

Respectfully submitted,

Jeffrey L. Kirk

Wow that Jeff Kirk is a prolific writer. Squeezing my column each month. That is great. Nothing like a leader that has something to say.

Despite winter hanging on and spring teasing us with some nice Corvette weather in early March it still was a very active club over the past 30 days.

There was the impromptu Hopsfrog social where almost 40 of the faithful showed up. The 4th annual Winter NVCC Kart race at the indoor track in Sterling. Very competitive, very quick drivers, very tired drivers at the end of the night.

The annual concours planning is now going full steam ahead with the best event in the history of the club planned for May 2nd! Barb Shaw has the first rallye on the schedule for everyone to dust off their rallye skills. Social events keep thriving with ice cream socials and the ever popular Robinson Dart night coming up.

There is club discussion going on about charity work, contributions from our sponsor Koon Chevrolet, increasing our membership, getting a trailer to haul stuff to events and of course the racers are working on their ODS plans with MWSCC and the 2nd annual American Iron event.

No one can accuse NVCC of letting moss grow under our feet. Remember you can't enjoy your Corvette as much if you don't get involved. We have something for everyone who loves Corvettes and Corvette owners. Let's keep it going for a great 2004! Thanks to all!

Need your input for a NVCC project

Okay everyone I'm putting together a Corvette Compendium. The idea is to present to a broad history of the car, and the joys of owning one. It will either be in CD or DVD format (still working on that). I'm looking for images, sound files, videos, stories, rumors, history and yes Jeff, even trivia and jokes.

I'm also looking for anyone that wants to help on this project. Help also includes ideas on content, presentation, etc. I'm hoping that the end result will be a NVCC group effort. So if you receive this email and you have anything to provide, please do so.

Thanks

Mike Sarver

Hello Fellow 'Vetters,

Now that spring is just about here, it's time we get out there with our beloved corvettes and enjoy some (hopefully) milder weather! As a former New Yorker for 30 years, I'm thrilled I can drive this thing 10 or 11 months out of the year instead of just 6...

Since I am still new to the club and have only lived here for about 3 years, I am asking for the help of the club to get started on planning some events. So far Andrej has stepped forward with a terrific idea for a Tri-State Ice Cream Cruise for Sunday, June 6th. More details on that to come soon. Also, do we want to join CorvetteForum's Southeast Region's Skyline Drive Cruise on April 24th? I am particularly looking for some other members to possibly host some cruises before then as well. Please e-mail me at lilredcorvette94@yahoo.com if you are interested in hosting an early or mid spring cruise.

Other ideas being tossed around are a Zaino party, comedy club night, dinner theatre, or perhaps a night of clubbing/dancing. Anything you would like to see happen? Hit me with an e-mail.

Looking forward to the fun times ahead...

Regards,

Laurie Kistner

aka LilRedCorvette

Rallye Ramblings by Barbara Shaw

Spring is here and it's time to prepare for the 2004 Rallye season. We will start with the annual running of "Rallye 101, Everything You Need to Know About Rallyes". Rallye 101 is a classroom type lecture followed by a short practice rallye. The participants return to the meeting area for a hearty brunch and "hot-wash" discussion. Sharpen your pencils and join us on Sunday, April 25th at Hopsfrog Tavern at 5745 Burke Centre Parkway in Burke, VA.

I am still recruiting Rallye Masters and Rallye Checkers for the five events that make up the 2004 series. Actually, this is the single most effective thing you can do to improve your rallye skills. Not only do you have the opportunity to put together the rallye you would love to run, the knowledge you gain by selecting and then wording the clues will help you to better interpret clues in other rallye events. I am hoping some of the experienced Rallye Masters and Checkers will volunteer again this year, but I also hope to see others who have participated over the last couple years step up and lead an event. If you are interested in being a Rallye Master or a Rallye Checker, please call me - let's talk.

See you at Rallye 101. Remember, participation is the key to winning.

June 6 Ice Cream Cruise!

Hopsfrog Grill Impromptu Brunch and Social
The 6th Annual Hopsfrog Grill (formerly Tavern) Impromptu Brunch and Social was a huge success. A hearty band of thirty-nine (39) Corvette lovers took the opportunity to get out and exercise their Corvettes before the predicted rain arrives. As usual, a good time was had by all. If you left hungry, it's your fault! Thanks to all for a most enjoyable "Grub & Gab" event.

Concoirs by Collin Maconald

A Concoirs without judges is nothing more than a cruise-in with well polished cars! I am extending an invitation to all NVCC members to volunteer as judges for our Concoirs on May 2, 2004. Experience as a judge is not necessary, we all had to start somewhere. First time judges will be teamed with experienced judges to avoid any first time nervousness. We plan to have a judging seminar on Sunday, April 18 for all new and experienced judges to go over do's and don'ts, judging techniques and to discuss NCCC Concoirs judging changes in the new rule book. I would like to have 30 judges which would give us 15 teams. This will lighten the load on each team and enable us to complete the judging phase of the Concoirs sooner. Besides, judging allows you to meet the competitors from other clubs up close and personal and you can even pick up a few pointers on how to prepare your car for the next Concoirs.

We will start judging the day of the Concoirs after rags down, so if you plan to enter your Vette in the show there will be nothing preventing you from completely preparing your car once you arrive at the show. You just cannot judge the class in which your car is entered!

Already the following club members and prospective members have volunteered:

Barb Foor Edie Soles Don Patrick Andrej Balanc
Ernie Porter

If you would like to volunteer please e-mail me and your name can be added to the list on the next update.

Thanks for your support

Earnhardt, Jr. and Said to Race Chevrolet Corvette C5-R The Corvette Racing team announced the addition of drivers Dale Earnhardt, Jr. and Boris Said for Round Four of the American Le Mans Series at Infineon Raceway in Sonoma, California on July 18th. The #8 Corvette C5-R will run as a third car in the event to further the team's overall strategy to capture a fourth straight ALMS championship in 2004. "It will be great to have Dale Jr. back into the Chevrolet Corvette C5-R and Boris will be an excellent partner for him," said Gary Claudio, marketing manager for GM Racing. The three-car squad for the race in Sonoma will reunite Dale Earnhardt, Jr. with the Corvette Racing team, a bond that began at the 2001 running of the 24 Hours of Daytona, where Earnhardt, Jr. and his father, the late Dale Earnhardt, finished fourth overall in their first sports car race. "I am really looking forward to getting back behind the wheel of the Corvette C5-R because it is such a great race car," said Earnhardt, Jr. "I'm happy that Chevy has given me the chance to crossover and take part in its sports car program, which has been a huge success. Corvette will perform Indy 500 pace car duties for a record sixth

This also marks the third consecutive year and 15th time overall that a Chevrolet product has served as the official vehicle. The Light at the End of the Tunnel.....
Almost Show Time
By Collin MacDonald

Good news, it will be ready for show season 2004, bad news, won't be ready for our Concours Show. Total restoration will take 3 months minimum. It's going to be close, but I am hoping to show it for the first time on the 20th of June at the Sulley Antique Auto Show, in Fairfax. I will not rush this part of the restoration, as this is one of the most critical. When you read this, the car is under the skillful hands of John Sheldon. Many of the older club members remember John as the original owner of "Stingrays Auto Body" in Purcellville, VA. John sold his auto body shop to dedicate his skills for restorations of Corvettes and other classic fiberglass cars. John's shop is in his house, in West Virginia, along the banks of the Shenendoah River. He has the entire basement set up as a body shop able to work on two cars at one time. He has the best commute to work I have ever seen.

What's interesting about this setup, John is getting better paint results than he did in his shop. He was able to build a special filtering system in one of his bays that provides a dust free environment. It air system has very powerful filters that provides a dust free environment and I have seen the results, which are very impressive. One of John's associates is Mark who has been working with him for years. Mark does most of the painting of the cars and he is one of the best shooters I have seen. John specializes in Fiberglass cars, having over 35 years experience with fiberglass alone.

The 63 suffers from the dreaded paint blister syndrome, a very common problem with older Corvettes that have been repainted. Other little issues needing to be corrected are; the front hood emblem is on crooked, so the holes will need to be sealed and redone. The side front fender emblems are located in the wrong place; they need to be corrected. The front end of the car on the right side was in an accident at one time. Although from the inside they patch work looks like it was done correctly, the front clip is hanging about one inch low causing the hood to sit higher. The clip will be adjusted along with all the other seams of the car. On every quarter of the car is a series of these air blisters that are popping up, the worse being on the rear, below the gas tank. It's about a 3-inch diameter and a large bubble. I broke this bubble and it broke clean to the actual fiberglass of the car.

I counted SIX coats of paint on this car. The rule of thumb is each coat of paint is equal to ten pounds, so this car has an extra 40 pounds on it. One coat is black, painted directly on the fiberglass with no primer. I talked to one of the first owners who told me when he got the car in 1983 he stripped it down and painted it black, even though it was silver, and changed the interior to a saddle color. Well the saddle color interior is long gone, but the exterior was painted three different shades of silver after the black coat was applied. One of the coats looks like a primer was applied on top of the black paint. These air bubbles or blisters are caused because the paint stripper was not thoroughly washed from the fiberglass; as a result the primer does not adhere to the fiberglass. When the car sits in the summer sun, it heats up the fiberglass, which causes vapors from the stripper that has not been cleaned to become gaseous. Since paint is not porous, but stretches, it causes the paint to bubble upwards, causing the blister. Eventually, the paint will become brittle and crack open exposing either the fiber glass or the primer coat. The only cure for this is to strip the entire car, and start all over again.

Other things being repaired; driver's door needs to be realigned, all weather-stripping will be replaced, all body gaskets replaced, all stainless steel trim restored and polished. New front grill and cookie sheets (on top of hood) replaced all the bumper hardware will be replaced with the correct nuts, bolts and washers and a new gas tank cover, the correct one for an early 63.

The exhaust bezels will be removed and polished, along with the rear license plate bezel. New side mirror, the rear bumpers will be sent out to be re-chromed. New date coded windshield that will be shaded, new side windows, and new vent windows. The rear glass in the split windows will remain, they are date coded 63. The glass will be LOF and come from the original company that did the glass in 1963. Rocker panels are in good shape and will be repainted and polished. Rear lights will be removed and polished, including the lenses. I have most of the replacement parts now, just got to get a few odds and ends to complete this.

During the painting stage, the doors, hood, and headlight buckets will be removed from the car. These items will be painted on the bench. All the trim, windows, door handles, lights, bumper, rocker panels, gas tank cap, etc. are removed. This provides the opportunity to send out all the stainless steel trim and the chrome to get repaired and polished or chromed. Then all the areas that are not to be painted are papered and taped. Let the paint stripping begin. Car is totally stripped down, and then all old bodywork is repaired. All factory panel junctions are re-glassed and then the car is primed with a special primer much better than the gelcoats from years ago. It's a stable primer that will not crack or separate. Car goes through a series of hand sanding, and another coat of primer, sanded and made ready for paint, then the clear coat. I am not going with the lacquer paint, but going with the water base paint with clear coat. This will have a much nicer shine and more durable than lacquer, resisting chipping. Now if it was an NCRS car lacquer would be required, but I have no intentions of going NCRS, I want to drive this, I really don't want a piece of furniture. The total time will be 3 – 4 months of shop time. A lot depends upon the unknown, being the body work that might have to be done over.

I will take photos of the paint and body repair process. This part of the restoration will tell the history of the car, I will be able to understand much more of where the car has been and what was done with it in the past.

CONCOURS UPDATE

Registrations are coming in, and the park is working with us to get the site organized. Had a brief meeting with the park and everything is on schedule, they are very excited about our show.

Bill Kolster has taken the role of the Head Judge, working with Jeff and Koons, they have managed to get a bay for a meeting of all the judges for a course on how to judge. This will take place in April 18th at Koons. So please contact Bill to get the specifics of this course, I hope it will be very enjoyable and you will learn quite a bit of how to prepare your car.

The show pins are on order and expected to arrive any day. I am working on the T-Shirts and hope to finalize this in the next two weeks. I had a couple of vendors contact me. One to set up and sell dri-wash products, another to pass out information about their products. So the word is getting out. I have had more than several people call and are making plans to attend.

Budget was approved for the show a couple of weeks ago, and Koons contributed a good amount to help this show get going. In addition we purchased show software that will keep a much better record and a process for the entire show. From registration to producing windshield show cards this software does it all.

Remember you need to register your car too, I have not received any club registration yet. I will have much more information next month. So for now...we will keep working to make this one of the best shows yet...
